BOER GENERAL OUT, ACCUSING ENGLAND

Beyers Disapproves Conquest of German Southwest Africa.

AFRICAN UNION OFFICIAL REBUKES HIM FOR STAND

Cails "Tair Weather Loyalty" and "Pro-German Sentiment"

LONDON, September 22.-Brig. Gen. Christian Frederick Beyers, commandant general of the Union of South Africa's defense forces, has resigned his post because of his disapproval of the action of Great Britain in sending

The official press bureau last night gave out the letter of resignation of Gen. Beyers, and the reply of Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, minister of finance and defense of the South African Union. Gen. Beyers reminds Gen. Smuts that Wall Hangings than ever—and better hangings to show you. HALLER & HALLER, formerly in August he disapproved of the send-ing of commandoes (forces of Boer ALL PRINTED troops) to conquer German Southwest Africa, and expresses surprise that parliament confirmed the resolution of the government to conquer the German territory without any provocation to that a majority of the Dutch people i the union disapproved of crossing the German frontier.

Referring to a statement that Great Britain had taken part in the European war for the sake of justice and to protect the independence of smaller nations and comply with treaties, Gen. Beyers points to the resignation of two British ministers as evidence that a strong minority cannot be convinced of the righteousness of war with Germany.

strong minority cannot be convinced of the righteousness of war with Germany.

As to the protection of smaller nations Gen. Beyers says:

"I have only to indicate how the independence of the South African republic and of the Orange Free State was violated, and of what weight the Sand river convention was.

"It is said this war is being waged by the barbarity of the Germans I have forgiven, but not forgotten, all the barbarities perpetrated on our country during the South African war. With very few exceptions all the farms, not to mention many towns, were so many of the Louvains of which we now hear so much."

Gen. Beyers denies that the Germans invaded South African Union territory, and declares "if they did the Dutch and British would fight side by side in its defense," and that he would gladly lead them.

In Consultation With Beyers.

Gen. Smuts, in his reply to the letter of resignation, says that all the plans for operation against German South-firing at 9,000 yards, closing in to 7,000. west Africa were made in con-sultation with Gen. Beyers, and that his suggestions were largely carried out.

"Your bitter attack on Great Brittin," Gen. Smuts continues, "not only is entirely baseless, but most unjustiable, coming, as it does, in the midst of a great war.

"Your reference to barbarous acts during the South African war cannot justify the criminal devastation of Belgiums, and can only be calculated to sow hatred and division among the people of South Africa."

Gen. Smuts refers to the freedom given South Africa by Great Britain "which allows you to write a letter for which you would, without doubt, be liable in the German Empire to the extreme penalty."

The minister goes on to say that the coast of the South Africa Union is threatened, that mailboats have been held up and that her borders have been invaded by the Germans, and concludes by declaring:

"I cannot conceive of anything more fatal and humiliating than a life of fatal and humiliating than a life of loyalty in fair weather and a policy of neutrality and pro-German senti-ment in days of storm and stress."

All persons to whom renewals were declined were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for transfer to concentration camps.

The question of the status of German merchants who are fighting against the French is still being discussed.
